

13th Asian Women in Leadership Summit

August 22, 2024 | Singapore

Inspire Inclusion.
Empower young women leaders.

AWLS 2024

Successful companies are going beyond diversity, they are striving for greater inclusion, and equity. For these organizations, achieving DEI is much more than meeting some diversity metrics; they seek to create and nurture a culture that promotes and celebrates Diversity, Equity and Inclusion. Companies that are diverse, equitable, and inclusive are better able to respond to challenges, attract top talent, and meet the needs of different customer bases.

AWLS 2024 will focus on how leaders and organizations are promoting DEI as a culture, the challenges they face and how they overcome those challenges.

Overview:

A recent assessment report by UN Women is titled “The World is failing girls and women” and estimates the need of an additional USD 360 billion in investment per year to achieve gender equality and women’s empowerment by 2030.

As for women in corporate leadership, the current situation reflects both progress and persistent challenges. While there has been an increase in women's representation in corporate leadership, disparities persist, with women still underrepresented in top executive positions and boardrooms.

The global gender pay gap remains a concern, and women often face challenges in achieving equal pay. Women-led startups are growing, but obstacles in accessing funding persist. Political leadership sees progress, but women's representation in decision-making roles remains a work in progress. Efforts to create inclusive workplace cultures are underway, yet systemic barriers such as unconscious bias and limited mentorship opportunities persist.

About AWLS

Launched in 2016, AWLS has emerged as a credible platform that provide leaders- men and women- an opportunity to celebrate the journeys of successful women leaders and exchange ideas on how to develop and nurture women leaders to achieve a more equitable, inclusive, and sustainable growth. It also provides leading organizations to showcase their exemplary work in DEI and thus promote their brand, especially for talent.
